State and National Problem

To Assure Pride and Confidence in the Electoral Process, National Commission on Federal Election Reform (2001)

Going back to 2001, the National Commission of Federal Election Reform, led by Former Presidents Ford and Carter, Robert Michel and Lloyd Cutler, released a report that highlighted the developing problem of inaccurate voter lists and the need for an accurate voter registration list of eligible citizens qualified to vote. One of the principal recommendations of that Commission was to create a democratic process that would maintain an accurate list of citizens who were qualified to vote.

State and National Problem

Building Confidence in U.S. Elections, Report of the Commission on Federal Election Reform - Carter-Baker Commission (2005) –

Recommendations on Quality in Voter Registration Lists

- Complete, Accurate Valid Lists of Citizens Eligible to vote
- *States need to effectively maintain and update their voter registration lists. The EAC should provide voluntary guidelines to the states for quality audits to test voter registration databases for accuracy (correct and up-to-date information on individuals), completeness (inclusion of all eligible voters), and security (protection against unauthorized access). When an eligible voter moves from one state to another, the state to which the voter is moving should be required to notify the state which the voter is leaving to eliminate that voter from its registration list.
- All states should have procedures for maintaining accurate lists such as electronic matching of death records, driver's licenses, local tax rolls, and felon records.
- Federal and state courts should provide state election offices with the lists of individuals who declare they are non-citizens when they are summoned for jury duty

State and National Problem

The American Voting Experience: Report and Recommendations of the Presidential Commission on Election Administration (2014)

"Accurate voter lists are essential to the management of elections. Keeping track is a Herculean task. On Election Day 2012, the registration system had 191.8 million records and 130.3 million voters managed by officials in 50 states and approximately 8,000 local election offices, with the lists used at 186,000 precincts. The quality of the list can affect the ability of people to vote, of election offices to detect problems, and of courts and others monitoring elections to detect election fraud or irregularities. Election officials across the political spectrum recognize the value of accurate and manageable voter rolls. A list with many incorrect records can slow down the processing of voters at polling places resulting in longer lines."

National Voter Registration Act (NVRA)

- Primary federal law governing voter address list maintenance, registration
- Requires states to conduct general list maintenance
- Regular, ongoing program of list maintenance
- Establishes a process for states to keep voter registration lists accurate

National Voter Registration Act (NVRA)

- 90-day window prohibiting removal prior to federal elections complicates calendar for list maintenance
- Chief Election Official responsible for compliance, sometimes doesn't have authority or direct oversight

Help America Vote Act (HAVA)

- Modernize state registration databases to develop official lists of registered voters and coordinate with driver's license agency, vital statistics, and courts
- Coordinate with local election databases, provide list maintenance information to localities through the state database connectivity with local offices

HAVA and Voter List Maintenance

- Requires states to develop lists of registered voters and coordinate voter record with state entities
- Clarifies when voters can and cannot be removed from a registration list
- Mandates EAC to submit report to Congress accessing impact of NVRA every two years

About Voter Registration Databases

Databases should track a voter's registration through time, including:
