ASLCS STANDING ORDERS

Changes adopted through August 3, 2022

PREFACE TO THE STANDING ORDERS

Upon becoming President of ASLCS in 1992, I learned many of the business practices and policies of prior Executive Committees had been passed along from year to year only by word of mouth. In most situations, word of mouth would suffice but in hard or ambiguous cases it did not. Faced with a difficult issue, Presidents and Executive Committees often spent valuable time finding someone who remembered how a question had been previously addressed and why. The system of Standing Orders was conceived to solve this problem.

The Bylaws are the Society's constitution. Standing Orders bear the same relationship to our Bylaws as statutory law does to a constitution; i.e., they are a written body of policy continuing in force unless amended or repealed by act of a present or future Executive Committee.

The Standing Orders have the added benefit of fostering a more open and transparent relationship between the Executive Committee and the membership. John Phelps, Clerk, Florida House of Representatives (July 24, 2003, San Francisco, CA)

SECTION I. MEMBERSHIP

(See Bylaws, Article I)

- A. History. The American Society of Legislative Clerks and Secretaries (ASLCS or Society) was founded in 1943 to improve legislative administration and to establish better communication between clerks and secretaries throughout the United States and its territories. Its membership is composed of Principal Clerks and Secretaries and their designated legislative employees. The Society's purpose, as stated in Article I, ASLCS Bylaws, is "to improve the administrative and parliamentary effectiveness of State Legislatures and to develop better procedures for enhancing the lawmaking function."

In 1974, ASLCS joined with several state legislative groups to form the National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL) to advance the effectiveness, independence, and integrity of legislatures.

- B. Principal Members. Principal members of the Society are the duly elected or appointed Principal Clerks and Secretaries of each of the 50 states and the insular possessions and territories of the United States of America. A Principal Clerk or Secretary is the chief legislative officer of a legislative body.
- C. Associate Members. A legislative employee designated by a Principal Clerk or Secretary may become an Associate member of the Society upon payment of annual dues. The names of Associate members shall be submitted in writing by their Principal Clerk or Secretary to the ASLCS Secretary-Treasurer and shall be officially recorded. An Associate member shall remain a member until such time as the Principal Clerk or Secretary or a successor shall order in writing that the name of the Associate member be removed from the record or annual dues are not paid.

D. Honorary Members

1. The ASLCS Executive Committee may designate an honorary member of the Society. (January 6, 1990, Denver, CO)
2. The Clerk of the United States House of Representatives and the Secretary of the United States Senate shall be honorary members of the Society as long as they remain in their respective offices. (July 28, 1999, Indianapolis, IN)
3. The ASLCS President shall inform such individuals of their honorary membership upon their designation or appointment. (July 28, 1999, Indianapolis, IN; September 13, 2007, Burlington, VT)

E. Former Members

1. Any former member of the Society may maintain membership in the Society by notifying the ASLCS Secretary-Treasurer and paying the required annual dues.
2. Each dues-paying former member shall receive a copy of the Roster and Reference Guide (Roster) and The Legislative Administrator. A former member may not vote, serve on a committee or commission, receive a scholarship or financial support, or in any other way participate in the official business of the Society.

- F. Retirement Certificates. Upon retirement, Principal and Associate members shall receive a certificate from the Society in recognition of their retirement. The President is responsible for the issuance of retirement certificates. (July 25, 1994, New Orleans, LA; April 18, 1999, Chicago, IL; July 28, 1999, Indianapolis, IN)

SECTION II. VOTING

(See Bylaws, Article I)

- A. Voting Members. Each legislative body of the 50 states and the insular possessions and territories of the United States of America shall have two votes, which shall be cast by the voting members of that body or a proxy from that body designated by the Principal Clerk or Secretary of the body under Subsection C.

The following are voting members of the Society:

1. The duly elected or appointed Principal Clerk or Secretary of each legislative body of the 50 states and the insular possessions and territories of the United States of America; and
2. One Associate member of each legislative body of the 50 states and the insular possessions and territories of the United States of America, determined by using the following criteria, in the order listed:
 - a. An Associate member of the ASLCS Executive Committee; or
 - b. An Associate member as designated by the appropriate Principal Clerk or Secretary.

- B. Voting Procedures. Voting may occur at any Society business meeting, the time and place of which must be designated by the ASLCS Executive Committee.

Among the issues that may be voted on are the election of Society officers and the amendment of Society Bylaws. The following are the voting procedures for those issues:

1. The vote on the election of Society officers is held at the annual business meeting held in conjunction with the ASLCS Professional Development Seminar (PDS). Society officers serve a one-year term. In the event of failure to fill any office at an annual business meeting, the current officeholder continues to perform the duties of their office in a holdover capacity until a successor is elected.
2. The vote on an amendment to Society Bylaws is held at an annual meeting if the proposed amendment has been mailed to the membership with the official notice of the meeting. A majority vote of the members present and voting is required for passage. If prior notice is not given, a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting is required.

- C. Voting by Proxy. A Principal member may designate a proxy to vote in the member's absence at the Society's annual business meeting at the PDS. To properly designate a proxy, the Principal member shall complete the ASLCS Proxy Form and submit it to the ASLCS Secretary-Treasurer prior to the meeting.
