To: Members of the NCSL Executive Committee
From: Tim Storey, NCSL Executive Director
Date: August 4, 2023
Re: Chief Executive Officer’s Report

Thank you for sharing your time and expertise to lead NCSL. It’s only been a couple of months since my previous update to the Executive Committee in June in Providence. I can report that the Conference is in great shape as we enter our 49th year of service to you. We remain focused on making you better at your jobs with an emphasis on civility and bipartisanship. The staff of NCSL are extremely grateful to you for believing in our mission and supporting our work in service to the legislative institution.

LEGISLATIVE SUMMIT

Indianapolis is going to be awesome. The program is loaded with timely topics and outstanding national experts. Attendance will almost certainly surpass 5,300, with over 700 legislators and over 900 legislative staff participating. This will make it our largest gathering since the pandemic, by far. We owe a massive debt of gratitude to the Indiana Legislature and its leadership. They crushed it as a host state and have lined up some incredible evening events.

The exhibit hall is going to be bustling—perhaps our largest ever. As always, it will be filled with many cool exhibitors with a wide range of fascinating people and ideas. It generates considerable revenue for the Conference, so please take time to visit and thank the vendors for being there.

ANNUAL REPORT

We are distributing to you our second annual report detailing the work done by the NCSL staff for legislatures over the past twelve months. It is filled with measurable data and highlights the many research requests and presentations done by staff. It also highlights numerous engagement metrics including the thousands of folks who participated in meetings and online gatherings. It was a very productive year, and I am optimistic that our services and products will continue to gain popularity as we enter our 49th year.

FOUNDATION FOR STATE LEGISLATURES

You’ve heard this before: The just completed fiscal year once again brought unprecedented success for the Foundation for State Legislatures. It appears that the Foundation revenue from unrestricted giving will be close to $5 million. This allows the Foundation to grant an additional $500,000 in supplemental awards to NCSL, including a major investment in planning for the 50th anniversary. In addition, the Board will award over $3.2 million in awards for FY 2024. This support is fantastic. The funding is absolutely critical to NCSL as we improve and expand the programs that we know you value most. NCSL has established a stellar reputation with our private sector partners who know how beneficial it is to partner with us and the Foundation. Thank you for helping us recruit and sustain private sector partnerships. We put the support to extremely good use by offering more and better services to you.
BUDGET AND DUES
NCSL’s fiscal condition is outstanding thanks to strong support from legislatures and revenue growth in several other key areas. We will know for certain after the audit is completed this fall, but it appears that we ended the fiscal year in terrific shape with a solid surplus of close to $2 million in the general fund. As the Executive Committee directed at the June meeting, we will add the surplus to NCSL’s reserves. As expected, we received a one-time payment of $795,000 from the dissolution of the State and Local Legal Center, an entity co-owned with other members of the Big 7 state and local associations.

With the addition of those funds, plus the $399,000 previously budgeted for the rainy-day fund, we will be supplementing the reserve fund by close to $3.2 million. Building the reserves was a keystone in the strategic plan and has been a top priority for the officers and Committee for several years, and I am exceptionally pleased to report that we have now largely accomplished this goal.

Legislatures continue to support the Conference by contributing dues and actively participating. I am happy to share that over 25 states have already submitted FY 2024 dues, putting us ahead of last year’s pace. Thank you for your advocacy in getting your state’s dues paid in a timely manner.

NCSL’s 50th ANNIVERSARY
You are serving on NCSL’s Executive Committee during a very exciting milestone of the Conference. We are approaching our 50th year of service to the legislative institution. We will kick off our golden anniversary at the next Summit in Louisville, Kentucky, and culminate the celebration at the 2025 Summit in Boston. The 50th will be a major focus at the Executive Committee meeting in January in Las Vegas. Start thinking about how we can make it an amazing year for NCSL and how we can position the Conference for 50 more years of success. It’s going to be a fun year.

CONCLUSION
I am excited to report some exciting news on the NCSL staffing front. While our turnover remains well below average, we did have two senior team members announce their departures recently. Our Chief Communications Officer, Gene Rose, will be retiring at the end of August. Fortunately, we have hired an outstanding individual—Bryan Thomas—to lead the communications division. Bryan has led communications teams for the City of Atlanta and Habitat for Humanity, and brings a wealth of innovative thinking and experience. And after 20 years of working for NCSL’s Foundation for State Legislatures, Caroline Carlson decided to take a wonderful new career opportunity. Diana Noel, our VP for Research and Policy will be taking the helm of the Foundation, ensuring a smooth transition and leading a team that has had tremendous success in recent years. Please congratulate and welcome them both when you see them in Indianapolis.

Your NCSL staff teams in Washington and Denver are always eager to hear from you and assist in any way possible to help you and your peers. Never hesitate to call on us. Furthermore, I am always eager to hear your ideas, concerns, compliments, and feedback about the work we do to serve you. We strive to meet our mission of strengthening the institution, bringing you together and representing states in D.C. It is our great honor. Thank you for all that you do in service to your fellow Americans. And thank you for sharing your energy and time to lead NCSL.

NCSL GRANT SOLICITATION GUIDELINES

1. NCSL’s primary objective in fundraising is to pursue grants on issues that are important to legislators and staff. Among the measures of importance are research requests, requests for technical assistance, currently filed legislation, a federal initiative to which states must respond, priorities set by the Executive Committee, or a topic that NCSL staff foresee coming to center stage.

2. NCSL will consider topics that enhance established strengths of the organization to provide greater depth to legislators and staff as they consider increasingly complex facets of an issue.

3. Where the issue is new to the organization, staff will consider how quickly it can develop expertise to ensure sustainability should future grant funding end.

4. NCSL will focus its fundraising on topics where reliable and impartial sources of information are not readily available to legislators and staff to avoid duplication of efforts. Where credible resources exist, NCSL will serve as a broker to facilitate access to information.

5. NCSL will not accept funding from a source unless it agrees that:

   • NCSL will not advocate the funder’s position on an issue (unless it is consistent with NCSL policy adopted under NCSL bylaws); and
   • NCSL will maintain total direction and editorial control over the operation and work produced under the grant.

Despite being able to ensure that these guarantees are in place, NCSL understands that there may be a perceived conflict of interest in pursuing grant funding from certain sources. Staff must thoroughly assess these risks and be confident that NCSL can justify any such funding to NCSL’s Executive Committee, which retains final authority to approve or reject any grant proposal, before proceeding with negotiations. In negotiating final grant conditions, NCSL and the funder must agree to the scope and timing of the proposal, project deliverables and budget.
Total potential funding for all proposals is $6,527,998.

Call to Action Results in New Co-Sponsors

In late June, NCSL made a call to action to add co-sponsors to three federal bills: the Disaster Assistance Simplification Act, the Restore the Partnership Act and the Secure and Fair Enforcement Banking Act. To date, the action has resulted in additional sponsors to the Safe Banking Act—eight in the House and two in the Senate, and one sponsor to the Senate Disaster Assistance Simplification Act.

NCSL continues to meet with congressional staff on the Farm Bill reauthorization, which has yet to be introduced.

NCSL Briefs New House Regional Leadership Council

NCSL’s Federal Affairs and Fiscal staff organized and held a briefing at the invitation of the House Regional Leadership Council, created by Minority Leader Hakeem Jeffries (D-N.Y.) and chaired by Rep. Steny Hoyer (D-Md.). The council consists of 12 members of Congress representing different regions of the country who are monitoring the economic impact of major pieces of federal legislation. NCSL Federal Affairs staff were invited to give feedback on these bills. NCSL staff provided valuable information to congressional staff regarding the implementation of the major pieces of federal fiscal legislation Congress passed in the 117th Congress. The briefing included information on state impact with respect to the American Rescue Plan Act, the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act, the Inflation Reduction Act, the Bipartisan Safer Communities Act, and the Creating Helpful Incentives to Produce Semiconductors and Science Act (CHIPS).

NCSL Comments Receive Direct Response from Education Department in Final Rule

In July, the Department of Education issued a final rule—Improving Income-Driven Repayment for the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program and the Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program. The final rule quoted from NCSL’s letter, which raised concerns that the rule could “challenge the primacy of the Federal Pell Grant as the federal government’s primary strategy for college affordability and lead to the increased federalization of our higher education system...could incentivize increased borrowing, which would increase the Federal role in the governance of higher education, particularly on issues of institutional accountability, which are historically and currently a matter of state policy.” As expected, the department “disagreed that the rule increases the federal role in the governance of higher education,” and believes that they have "found the right balance of improving affordability and holding institutions accountable as part of our role in the triad.”
Addressing Federal Fiscal Challenges

NCSL continues to call on the administration and Congress to consider serious, long-term reforms that will reduce the national debt and put the country on more sustainable fiscal footing while ensuring states are not disproportionately or unreasonably burdened by federal deficit reduction or delays in the federal budget process, including passage of appropriations bills.

Highlights | Legislation NCSL Is Working On

Farm Bill: NCSL continues to meet with congressional staff on the Farm Bill reauthorization, which has yet to be introduced. Relatedly, NCSL is working with state and local stakeholders in opposing the Exposing Agricultural Trade Suppression Act which, if passed, would erode state and local sovereignty by prohibiting the establishment of laws and statutes that aim to protect the nation’s food production and manufacturing.

Recovering America’s Wildlife Act: NCSL continues to meet with congressional staff on the re-introduction of the Recovering America’s Wildlife Act. It amends the existing Pittman-Robertson Act, which provides funding for the restoration and improvement of wildlife habitat and management to provide an additional $1.3 billion per year for states and territories to assist in their efforts to conserve, restore and protect wildlife habitats via the congressionally mandated State Wildlife Action Plans. The bill has been reintroduced in the Senate but is awaiting revival in the House. See NCSL’s letter to the Senate here.

Federal Aviation Administration Reauthorization: NCSL continues to work toward reauthorization of the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) and was successful in preventing an amendment in the House that would have ceased all funding to the Essential Air Service program. NCSL has now shifted gears to the Senate, and looks forward to an on-time, bipartisan reauthorization. See NCSL’s shared stakeholder letter here.

Autonomous Vehicle Preemption: As in previous Congresses, NCSL is ardently working to prevent Congress from moving forward with legislation on autonomous vehicles with provisions that would preempt state and local authorities. See NCSL’s shared stakeholder letter here.

CRA Action: NCSL continues efforts to overturn federal regulator actions using the Congressional Review Act, visit NCSL’s overview and tracking webpage.
Select High-Level Federal Meetings

Congressional Leadership: NCSL staff continues to meet regularly with House and Senate leadership offices.

Department of Education: Austin Reid and Molly Ramsdell participated in their quarterly meeting with Education Secretary Miguel Cardona on July 28. NCSL highlighted the work of its Higher Education Task Force, which will host a Summit this December in Washington, D.C., on the state-federal relationship in higher education. NCSL took the opportunity to invite Cardona to the event. NCSL staff also highlighted topics discussed during a recent NCSL meeting of 30 K-12 education committee chairs, including concerns legislators expressed over the rapid wind-down of ESSER funds and the potential budget gaps school districts will face.

Department of Commerce: Erlinda Doherty and Ramsdell met with Susie Feliz, assistant secretary for legislative and intergovernmental affairs, Office of Legislative and Intergovernmental Affairs. The conversation focused on ways Commerce can work closer with NCSL and its members. To start, NCSL will host a conversation with Feliz during NCSL Base Camp.

Department of Energy: Kristen Hildreth met with Spencer Thibodeau, deputy assistant secretary for intergovernmental affairs, on ways the department could work more closely with NCSL and its members. As a result of that conversation, the DOE will be joining the Energy Supply Task Force meeting, bringing David Howell, principal deputy director of the Office of Manufacturing and Energy Supply Chains, to talk on critical minerals and securing the domestic supply chain.

Department of Health and Human Services: Lauren Kallins and Wade Fickler met with Rebecca Jones Gaston, commissioner of the Administration on Children, Youth and Families (ACF). The meeting was at her request to explore ways ACF and NCSL might partner together.

Department of Labor: Deanna Ross and Zaakary Barnes participated in monthly DOL intergovernmental calls, where they received high-level briefings from senior department officials on apprenticeships, youth employment efforts, and the DOJ Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (SCRA) license portability amendment to protect servicemembers and their spouses. To foster more engagement between the department and NCSL members, Ross continued bi-weekly check-ins with Richard Cesar, director of intergovernmental affairs, and Nezly Silva, deputy director of intergovernmental affairs.

United States Trade Representative’s (USTR) Office: Jon Jukuri participated in monthly USTR Intergovernmental Policy Advisory Committee calls outlining upcoming and ongoing international trade activities and economic cooperatives. He also attended additional meetings with Sophia Sokolowski, the director of intergovernmental affairs at USTR.
Recent NCSL Member Briefings on Federal Actions

Federal Student Loan Repayment Program: In July, Austin Reid, NCSL’s director of federal education policy, hosted a virtual briefing for legislators and staff to discuss the recent federal actions to help borrowers successfully reenter student loan repayment and detailed the implications for state policymakers and student loan borrowers. Watch the webinar here.

CHIPS Programs: In June, NCSL hosted a briefing for state legislators and staff during which Department of Commerce officials described the CHIPS programs and answered questions about how states and territories can participate. Watch the webinar here.

NCSL Policy Directives and Resolutions

In preparation for the Legislative Summit, NCSL again hosted policy week—June 20-26. During that week, each committee hosted a one-hour call for legislators and legislative staff to learn about NCSL Standing Committee policy processes and discuss existing policy directives and resolutions scheduled for consideration at the Legislative Summit. The committees will be considering 40 policies this week during their meetings. Access the policies here.

U.S. Supreme Court

NCSL in D.C. has been monitoring and reporting on U.S. Supreme Court rulings. Below are the latest:

Independent State Legislature Theory: In Moore v. Harper, the justices rejected a reading of the Constitution that would have given state legislatures largely unchecked power over federal elections. Read more.

Student Loan Forgiveness Program: In addition to striking down the administration’s student loan forgiveness program, the justices ruled that individual borrowers who challenged the plan because they did not qualify for the maximum amount of available relief lacked standing to bring their case. Read more.

Immigration Rulings: The court issued two immigration rulings in its race to finish the final month of its 2022-23 term. The decisions in U.S. v. Hansen and U.S. v. Texas are victories for the Biden administration, which prevailed in both. Read more.

Use of Race in the College Admissions Process: The justices held that admissions programs at Harvard and the University of North Carolina violate the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment, and that race can no longer be used as a factor in admissions. Read more.

Corporate Registration Law in Personal Jurisdiction Case: The court upheld the constitutionality of a Pennsylvania law requiring out-of-state companies that want to do business in the state to register and consent to appear in a Pennsylvania court if they are sued. Read more.

Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act: The court ruled that the recently redistricted Alabama congressional map likely violated Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act by diluting the votes of Black residents. The justices maintained the status quo by siding with Black voters in the Alabama case and leaving the door open, for now, for cases that allege racial gerrymandering. Read more.

Re: NCSL Institution-Focused Services, June-July 2023

The Center for Legislative Strengthening (CLS) is NCSL’s hub for consulting, projects, training and research in service of the legislative institution. Through May of this year, CLS provided trainings, testimony and presentations for 13 legislatures and four international delegations; responded to a variety of constituent requests on legislative operations and management; maintained an updated web presence; and staffed four consulting studies. As the Executive Committee recently received a briefing on most of these services at the Providence, R.I., meeting, this report covers activities in support of legislative institutions in June and July 2023.

Promoting Legislative Institutions

Constituents sought NCSL’s expertise on personal staffing structures, staff pay and other personnel issues, legislator term limits, legislative calendars, open meetings and open records, and legislator salaries, among other topics. In July, CLS published its biennial update of legislator compensation and benefits, research led by policy specialist Josalyn Williams.

Program Principal Will Clark spoke about the emerging use of artificial intelligence in legislative drafting, appearing on panels at two virtual international meetings, for iLegis and Bussola Tech. Clark also spoke at a July webinar for the Legislative Research Librarians professional staff association on the topic of records retention. In June, Director Natalie Wood testified before the Colorado General Assembly’s Committee on Legislative Legal Services on staff director hiring recruitment strategies and practices.

Training, Professional Development and Special Projects

CLS is nearing the conclusion of two studies on legislative staff compensation and, in June, Senior Policy Specialist Selena Saucedo led and completed a data collection effort for a third staffing study. CLS staff have been analyzing the findings of an all-staff survey on factors contributing to turnover and retention and will share the results at the 2023 Legislative Summit. The team has also been hard at work designing the other legislative institution track Summit sessions, which will cover social media in the legislative environment, public records issues, leadership, evolutions in legislator time on the job and parliamentary procedure.

Like most years, the summer and fall of 2023 are full of requests for presentations, workshops and professional development. Senior Policy Specialist Mari Henderson provided a workshop on parliamentary procedure for legislators in their second year of service at the “Avoiding the Sophomore Slump” meeting in Denver. Wood gave the opening presentation at the Legislative Staff Management Institute in July. The team is planning the National Seminar on Human Resources Management in State Legislatures, which will be held in Raleigh, N.C., this October. Finally, the team began work on a brief legislative consulting engagement that will focus on civics education regarding the legislative branch and the separation of powers.

FUNDRAISING AND OUTREACH ACTIVITIES

The Foundation’s ongoing outreach efforts include:

NCSL Base Camp 2022, Nov. 15-16

In its third year, Base Camp 2022 delivered top-notch policy sessions and online learning opportunities for legislators, legislative staff and Foundation sponsors. When possible, Foundation sponsors were tapped for presentations and keynotes. Topics this year included the great resignation, surplus budgets, infrastructure spending, inflation, supply chain issues. Sponsors were highlighted in digital signage.

NCSL State Elections 2022 Post-Election Briefing, Nov. 10

Foundation sponsors were invited to join NCSL elections and redistricting experts Wendy Underhill, Ben Williams, and Amanda Zoch to analyze the outcomes of the Nov. 8 midterm elections. Held at the National Press Club in Washington, D.C., our election experts discussed election results and what’s next on the policy front for states. This event was free for sponsors, and the NCSL Foundation sponsored a gathering with coffee and light breakfast fare before the briefing. We had 62 sponsors join in-person and 145 join virtually.

NCSL Foundation Board Luncheon, Nov. 10

Following the post-election briefing, NCSL Foundation staff gathered at PJ Clarkes with private sector board members based in D.C. and those traveling to D.C. for the election session, to introduce new Foundation staff members and show gratitude for our board support.

NCSL Foundation Development Staff travel to SGAC 2022 Leaders’ Policy Conference, Nov. 19–22

Caroline Carlson, Jon Jukuri and Emily Peterson attended the State Government Affairs Council annual leader’s policy conference in California. LPC is designed to encourage dialogue on important issues between state legislative leaders and private sector representatives. This meeting provided a tremendous opportunity to connect with Foundation sponsors ahead of the holiday season.

NCSL Forecast 23: Preparing for Session, Dec. 5-7 with Foundation Signature Event

A new program launched in 2022, Forecast is a conference designed to deliver foresight into pressing policy issues. Hosted in San Diego, CA Forecast ‘23 was a fruitful gathering ahead of 2023 legislative sessions, setting up legislators and legislative staff for maximum success. Foundation sponsors were also invited to the annual Foundation Signature Event, hosted at Del Frisco’s. Seating at the dinner was selected to connect individuals from industries with relevant policy staff from NCSL to promote conversation.

Task Force Engagement

Since the implementation of the new policy requiring task force sponsors to first join the NCSL Foundation to then give to a task force, Foundation staff have been working to recruit and retain sponsors in NCSL’s eight task forces with much success. Fundraising for these groups has been split equally among the Foundation development staff, including the launch of NCSL’s new higher education task force.
FOUNDATIONS PARTNERSHIPS

Recycling Partnership
Over the past year, NCSL Foundation has convened lawmakers, legislative staff and Foundation partners to discuss the recycling industry and develop best practices for states to consider. This partnership has provided stakeholders an opportunity to develop meaningful relationships with lawmakers, share information on industry issues and approaches, and work toward expanding expertise. Most recently, the recycling partnership met at NCSL’s Forecast ’23. This partnership will continue through next year, concluding in August of 2023 at the Legislative Summit. We are thankful to our committed partners for their input and expertise in this space.

Alternative Transportation User Fees Partnership
Launched this last December at NCSL’s Forecast ‘23, the Alternative Transportation User Fees Public Private Partnership assembled state lawmakers, legislative staff and private sponsors for a series of in-person meetings to learn more about the benefits and challenges of varying transportation user fee options, culminating with an online toolkit highlighting three to four transportation user fee alternatives agreed upon by the steering committee and sponsors. We are thankful to our committed partners for their input and expertise in this space.

FOUNDATION OPERATING EXPENSES FOR FY 2023
The Foundation board of directors approved an operating budget of $1,028,843 and $4,448,000 for awards to NCSL, up from $989,970 and $2,191,200, respectively, in FY 2022. We are within the Foundation operating budget at year end.

WELCOME AND INTRODUCTIONS

NCSL Staff Chair Anne Sappenfield (Wisconsin) gave opening remarks, thanked everyone for coming and asked attendees to introduce themselves.

NCSL CEO Tim Storey reported on the organization’s financial status. The budget for fiscal year 2024 will be presented and voted on by the Executive Committee this weekend, and it is in good shape, Storey said. There is a budget surplus of over $1 million, which has been put into the reserve fund. The strength of the reserve fund bodes well for the stability of NCSL’s operations going forward. Other areas of success include the reach of NCSL to each of the states and territories, with state liaison visit reports having been incredibly positive. About 4,000 legislators and staff attended NCSL training sessions in the last five months, including in-person and online sessions. The volume of research requests has been high for all the policy teams. NCSL is in full planning mode for the 2023 Summit in Indianapolis, with over 900 people registered to date. This is an indication that attendance could surpass 5,000 by the time Summit arrives.

LSCC WORK GROUP REPORTS

PROFESSIONAL STAFF ASSOCIATION WORK GROUP

Chair Erica Warren (Kentucky) reported that the group had a report from Staff Vice Chair Sabrina Lewellen on plans for NCSL’s 50th anniversary. Lewellen requested that the staff associations review their websites for content updates and create plans to recognize significant people in their histories as well as significant events for each association.

The group heard updates on staff association member exchange programs (seven of the nine). All reported they are moving forward, with several exchanges having been held already and several others to happen in the coming months. The group heard a report on Staff Week and the success of the staff shoutouts. During the week there was a podcast, a webinar and a town hall to celebrate legislative staff across the country. There was an update on the Legislative Staff Institutional Essentials program, with discussion and reporting on its improvement and success. There was continued discussion on adding other certificate programs, with no decision made. The timing of when additional programs might be held, the availability of NCSL staff resources, and the possibility of detracting from the current Institutional Essentials program are important considerations. The committee also received a report on Breeze, the replacement to Lyris; progress is being made, but additional work is needed before it becomes available to the full staff association. A motion was made to recommend that NCSL host a Staff Hub-type event on an approximate five-year cycle, not including presidential years. Motion was adopted.

STANDING COMMITTEES WORK GROUP

Vice Chair Melissa Renick (Kansas) reported that, as part of its ongoing examination of the structure of standing committees at NCSL, the members discussed whether the committee names were reflective of what each group covers and whether the subjects together are simple and straightforward enough. The goal is to increase staff and legislator engagement. The group also discussed plans for future professional development sessions on negotiation skills, and creative ways to problem-solve. Molly Ramsdell (NCSL) gave a report on standing committee staff membership and the number of new legislative leaders (35) coming in September. The group heard about a 50-state survey and how it relates to having new committee officers, and considered offering standing committee officers professional development opportunities that could be part of a credentialing program.

RECRUITMENT AND RETENTION SPECIAL WORKGROUP

Chair Natalie Castle (Colorado) reported that Natalie Wood (NCSL) presented the findings of a survey on staff turnover and retention, revealing that compensation and workplace flexibility were the primary factors contributing to staff retention and turnover. There is a plan to create a document about best practices on workplace flexibility and remote hybrid work. The work group will be moving from the subject of retention and more toward the recruitment aspects of hiring legislative staff.

STRATEGIC PLANNING WORKGROUP

Vice Chair Sabrina Lewellen (Arkansas) laid out a vision and mission statement for the upcoming 50th-anniversary celebration. There is already a mission statement and a vision statement, along with an anniversary timeline that will roll those out officially in August. The soft launch of the celebration will begin in January 2024 and will stretch through December 2025. The work group will finalize the NCSL staff chair goals for 2023-24 and conduct knowledge transfer touchpoint meetings with subcommittee and work group chairs to ensure smooth transitions between leadership years.

LSCC SUBCOMMITTEE REPORTS

PROGRAMS AND PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SUBCOMMITTEE

Chair Jill Reinmuth (Washington) reported that the subcommittee is continuing its work to gather, map and inventory the professional development programs offered by NCSL to legislative staff. Sarah Altshuler (NCSL) has been instrumental in creating a database that will assist the subcommittee and the LSCC in identifying areas of needed programming. Adding programs similar to the Legislative Staff Institutional Essentials program was discussed, with members raising concerns about feasibility, given limited NCSL staff resources and the tight calendar that legislative staff are under during the interim periods.

The group has also been working on creating a set of standard evaluation questions that can be used for most if not all the professional development offered through NCSL, including the staff associations. A motion was made by Natalie Castle: “I move to recommend that NCSL include the core questions as part of all evaluations of professional development programs for legislative staff, and that NCSL consider options for including related data in future reports on such programs.” The motion was adopted.

Regarding the Young and New Professionals group, the subcommittee heard that there is additional NCSL staff and NCSL Foundation support for the group and a sponsor for its event at the NCAA Hall of Champions in Indianapolis. There was discussion on LSMI and updates on the change in USC staff; more information should be available at the meeting in Indianapolis.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY, SOCIAL MEDIA, E-LEARNING AND OUTREACH SUBCOMMITTEE

Chair Betsy Theroux (Georgia) shared updates on Staff Snapshots, which have been redesigned and are available on the State Legislatures News page. Staff Week was highly successful, with over 1,700 shoutouts being sent in. The next program to receive the digital badging will be Legislative Staff Institutional Essentials. This year’s cohorts will be the first to be offered this option, with past cohorts to follow. Streaming sessions at the Legislative Summit will be through Facebook and LinkedIn. The group also discussed website security and improvements, such as no longer needing to log in to access the video library, making the content accessible to a wider audience increasing views by 89%.

LEGISLATIVE INSTITUTION SUBCOMMITTEE

Chair Soren Jacobsen (Idaho) reported on the group’s work in defining affinity groups, including an exercise in which members tried to define what they may look like. Progress continues on the oral history project, including a blueprint of the project going forward. Fourteen interviews were done to create content upgrades for the Compass video. The group discussed recruitment and retention efforts that overlap with the Recruitment and Retention Special Work Group and expressed appreciation for Natalie Woods’ presentation and distillation of the topics and information.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT EXERCISE

Curt Stedron (NCSL) conducted a brainstorming exercise to identify key knowledge and skills needed by legislative staff for their success. Attendees were asked, “What does a person in my role need to know, to be able to do?” The information will be used to design and implement new training modules.

ADJOURNMENT

Sappenfield gave closing remarks, thanked everyone for their work and attendance, and adjourned the meeting.

INTRODUCTIONS

Rep. Brian Patrick Kennedy, the president-elect of NCSL, welcomed everyone to the Executive Committee meeting in Providence, R.I. He mentioned the evening’s WaterFire event, the event at Cafe Nuovo and the shuttle service available to and from the hotel.

Kennedy acknowledged the reception at the State House the previous night and thanked everyone for attending. He pointed out the State House’s notable features, including its unsupported marble dome, the fourth-largest in the world.

He then introduced himself and other committee members, after which there were introductions from the attendees, including sponsors, NCSL staff and delegates from Quebec, Ireland and Ghana.

Kennedy noted that the upcoming budget vote for fiscal year 2024 was a significant aspect of the meeting and said he would shortly hand over the proceedings to NCSL CEO Tim Storey for further housekeeping measures.

WELCOME OF INTERNATIONAL GUEST

Kennedy introduced Sen. Mark Daly, the 24th chair of the Senate of Ireland and a great friend of NCSL. Daly created the American Irish State Legislator’s Caucus, which now has bipartisan members in all 50 states and U.S. territories.

Daly mentioned that this year marks the 25th anniversary of the Good Friday Peace Agreement, which brought peace after three decades of conflict in Northern Ireland. He expressed gratitude for the support of U.S. state legislators, which was crucial in achieving peace in the region.

The American Irish State Legislator’s Caucus was established through a relationship with NCSL and the National Conference of State Legislators. It has grown to communicate with over 2,000 state legislators every month and has brought several state lawmakers to visit Ireland.

Daly discussed the Ireland Trade Commission, which was proposed by the New Jersey Caucus and established by legislation. The commission promotes economic ties between Ireland and participating states, with West Virginia being one of the first states to sign the legislation.
He emphasized the importance of connections and diplomacy in politics and encouraged more states to get involved in international relations, especially with smaller countries like Ireland.

Daly invited everyone to visit Ireland and attend the annual general meeting of the American Irish State Legislator’s Caucus in Indianapolis.

APPROVAL OF MINUTES

Kennedy motioned to approve the minutes of the Spring 2023 Executive Committee meeting in Providence, R.I. The minutes were unanimously approved.

REMARKS BY THE NCSL CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

CEO Tim Storey began his address by expressing his gratitude to all attendees for participating in the governing of NCSL. He emphasized the significance of the organization’s mission to strengthen legislative institutions and support states in Washington. Storey thanked legislators and legislative staff for their dedication to and interest in the organization’s activities, both virtually and in person.

Storey recognized the NCSL officers for their valuable contributions and commitment to the organization. He acknowledged Kennedy for hosting the Executive Committee meeting in his home state of Rhode Island and his assistance in planning the receptions at the Rhode Island State House and the WaterFire event.

He provided updates on NCSL’s activities, highlighting the busy legislative sessions in various states and the thousands of information and research requests that the organization handled. Storey praised the staff’s dedication in promptly providing reliable and unbiased information, even on holidays.

Regarding the upcoming Legislative Summit in Indianapolis, Storey said that registration has surpassed expectations and is tracking ahead of previous meetings. He attributed this success to the early lockdown of the agenda and the inclusion of high-profile speakers.

Storey briefly mentioned the organization’s strong fiscal status and expressed gratitude for the support of the NCSL Foundation for State Legislatures, which enables the organization to pursue its mission effectively. He announced the retirement of Gene Rose, a critical member of the executive team, and the search for a new chief of communications.

In conclusion, Storey thanked the NCSL staff for their outstanding work and encouraged everyone to express their appreciation to both NCSL staff and their own staff. He stated that NCSL is on sound fiscal ground and looked forward to a successful meeting season.

BUDGET, FINANCE AND RULES COMMITTEE

Kennedy called for Mississippi Sen. Briggs Hopson to give the report for the Budget, Finance and Rules Committee.

Hopson began by stating that it is a pleasure to present a positive financial report for NCSL. The committee had met earlier that morning and discussed the fiscal year 2023 report. The current trends were positive, and NCSL was expected to end FY 23 with a surplus of approximately $1 million, Hopson said. This surplus was mainly due to hitting the target on appropriations collections and a successful Legislative Summit in Denver. Other factors included better-than-expected revenue and expense performance and increased grant funding.

Hopson said that NCSL received $790,000 from the dissolution of the State and Local Legal Center. The officers decided to add these funds, along with the surpluses from this year and the existing balance to the reserve fund. This would bring the reserve fund to between $3.2 million and $3.3 million.

Rep. Billy Mitchell asked about the contributions required for a state to host a Summit, to which Storey responded that it is a partnership, and the amount varies based on state capabilities and willingness to contribute. Generally, it could be around $1 million, he said, but there are various ways to support the event.

With no further questions, Hopson proceeded to present the proposed FY 24 general fund budget. The budget totaled $21.9 million in expenses, and projected general fund revenue at about $19.2 million. This included a 4% increase in appropriations from member jurisdictions, expected to bring in $12.1 million. The Legislative Summit is expected to be a significant revenue source, with an estimated $3.6 million in income and $2 million in expenses. The attendance is expected to be about 6,500 people.
The FY 24 budget continued the FY 23 budget’s expenses, with growth in personnel and travel areas. It included a 4% cost of living increase for personnel and inflationary increases for information technology costs, building maintenance and travel expenses.

Hopson discussed the plan to designate $500,000 to the reserve fund, aiming to reach at least a 90-day operating reserve fund, which would be around $5.5 million.

With no questions from the committee, Kennedy asked if Hopson would like to make a motion to adopt the budget. Hopson made the motion, and it was seconded. The committee voted in favor of adopting the presented budget as the NCSL general fund budget for the fiscal year 2024.

Hopson added one further item to his report, mentioning that the committee discussed the possibility of hiring an investment advisor for the funds in the reserve account. He informed the committee that Storey and NCSL CFO Alex Alavi would be working on an RFP (request for proposal) that would be brought before the committee for discussion at the August meeting. Hopson clarified that no action was required at this time, but he wanted to bring it to everyone’s attention. With no further questions, he yielded the floor back to Kennedy.

COMMITTEE ON OUTREACH AND MEMBER SERVICES

Utah Sen. Wayne Harper presented the report, highlighting two grants for approval: $1.5 million from The Pew Charitable Trusts covering 12 policy areas and $500,000 from the U.S. Department of Energy for a two-year project in developing coordinated electric grid resilience. Both grants were approved.

Other discussions included the NCSL Policy Week, June 20-22, and a special Zoom meeting on June 28 concerning the CHIPS and Science Act. The 2023 Legislative Summit has approximately 2,300 registered attendees so far and the outlook for a successful event is promising.

The report also touched on NCSL’s upcoming 50th-anniversary celebration in 2025, with a soft launch kickoff in January 2024 and plans for a grand finale in Boston. A photographer will visit each NCSL member capitol and legislative chamber to create a book celebrating legislatures and capitol buildings.

Updates on outreach communication, including the performance of the website and social media, podcasts and town halls, were presented. The state liaison program’s performance and its efforts to reach out to new legislators were discussed. Lastly, the successful 2023 Legislative Staff Week was highlighted, with a recognition of its significant increase in shoutouts celebrating legislative staff. The report concluded the Committee on Outreach and Member Services’ activities.

LEGISLATIVE INSTITUTION SUBCOMMITTEE

Massachusetts Senate President Karen Spilka presented the report, highlighting NCSL’s support for legislative institutions across the country from January through May 2023. Natalie Wood, an NCSL staff member, provided an update on the NCSL Center for Legislative Strengthening’s recent work, which included providing legislative research requests, testimony, trainings and professional development.

The subcommittee received a preview of the legislative institution track, consisting of nine sessions, planned for the Indianapolis Summit. The subcommittee also reviewed the NCSL survey of legislators, focusing on how they spend their time, demographic breakdowns, income and employment, and the impact of legislative service on paid work.

A robust discussion ensued on potential ways NCSL could assist legislators with ethics and campaign finance issues, including exploring best practices and making recommendations. The subcommittee brainstormed ideas for projects related to legislative operations and management in commemoration of NCSL’s 50th anniversary, such as focus groups and collaboration with other states. It was decided to continue discussing and considering ideas, with members to provide feedback to NCSL staff. The report concluded the Legislative Institution Subcommittee’s meeting.

SUBCOMMITTEE ON STATE-FEDERAL POLICY

Montana Sen. Barry Usher provided the report on State-Federal subcommittee’s activities. He began with a preliminary report from a working group created by the Executive Committee to evaluate the standing committee structure. The working group is expected to complete its work by the Indianapolis Summit, where recommendations will be voted on.

Next, updates were received on various issues from the NCSL D.C. office, including the debt ceiling agreement, the farm bill, immigration and recent Supreme Court rulings.

Kentucky Sen. Whitney Westerfield and Illinois Sen. Cristina Castro, co-chairs of the standing committees, then gave a brief update on NCSL’s work in DC. They highlighted several bills that NCSL is supporting and urged members to reach out to their congressional delegations in support of the measures. The bills mentioned were the Disaster Assistance Simplification Act (S.1528), the Restore the Partnership Act (H.R.3480) and the Secure and Fair Enforcement Banking Act (H.R.2891/S.1323).

Westerfield also mentioned NCSL’s priorities for the farm bill and the ongoing discussions with congressional staff on this matter. Finally, members were invited to participate in NCSL’s annual Policy Week, June 20-26, and encouraged to register for the Indianapolis Summit, Aug. 14-16.

The report concluded with appreciation for NCSL staff’s support and resources, and members were offered additional talking points on the bills and issues discussed.

LEGISLATIVE STAFF COORDINATING COMMITTEE

Anne Sappenfield, as NCSL staff chair, presented the report of the Legislative Staff Coordinating Committee. The LSCC discussed various topics and work groups during its meeting. The Professional Staff Association work group focused on the 50th-anniversary celebration and proposed holding collaborative professional development meetings every five years. The group also utilized NCSL Foundation funds for staff exchanges between states.

The Standing Committee Officers work group addressed professional development and education for staff serving as standing committee officers. Additionally, the group brainstormed ideas for staff officer professional development, guided by Curt Stedron, from NCSL’s Legislative Training Institute.

A special work group on recruitment and retention looked into strategies for addressing staff turnover and retention issues in legislatures. The group examined survey findings on turnover and retention and planned to develop a written resource addressing these concerns, including workplace flexibility.

The Strategic Planning work group, led by incoming Staff Chair Sabrina Lewellyn, primarily focused on the 50th-anniversary celebration.

The Programs and Professional Development Subcommittee analyzed NCSL’s professional development offerings to identify gaps and improve the overall experience for participants. The group discussed updates to the Young and New Professionals Program and the Legislative Staff Management Institute.

The Information Technology Subcommittee reviewed Staff Snapshots, featured on State Legislatures News; NCSL’s social media presence; and plans for the upcoming Summit in Indianapolis.
Lastly, the Legislative Institution Subcommittee shared updates on several video projects: an oral history featuring former staff chairs, a history of NCSL and legislative staff, and a feature covering ethics and resilience.

No questions were raised, and the report was concluded.

NCSL FOUNDATION REPORT

Hawaii Speaker Scott Saiki presented the NCSL Foundation report, which begins on page 46. He corrected the revenue figure mentioned in the report, stating that an additional $174,500 had been raised, bringing the total to $4,092,000. The revenue trend showed an increase compared with the previous year. Saiki acknowledged the efforts of the Foundation board members, 108 sponsors in Capital Circle and Platinum categories, as well as 33 new sponsors and 16 upgrades in all four categories (Capital Circle, Platinum, Gold and Silver).

Saiki then acknowledged and thanked the Foundation staff, including Caroline Carlson, Jon Jukuri, Emily Peterson, Judy Castaneda, and Janet Berlo-McCluskey.

Following the report, Kennedy thanked the speaker and the Foundation staff for their hard work in arranging the meeting in Providence. He then opened the floor for any other business or closing remarks.

OTHER BUSINESS

Kennedy thanked everyone for attending the Executive Committee meeting. He reminded the members of the next meeting, scheduled for Aug. 13 in Indianapolis, in conjunction with the Legislative Summit. Various working groups and task forces will meet during that time, he said, with some starting on Saturday and others on Sunday. The international delegates plan to arrive on Sunday, and volunteers were welcome to assist with the event.

Kennedy encouraged everyone to enjoy their summer before the Indianapolis meeting. He reminded them to dress warmly for the evening’s WaterFire event due to the chilly winds from the northeast. Transportation would be available to and from Cafe Nuovo for the event.

Rep. Kennedy called for a motion to adjourn, which was seconded, and the meeting was adjourned.

The declaration shall state the circumstances that constitute an emergency, the reasons that the emergency make it impracticable for the NCSL to act in the normal course, and the matters to be delegated. Members of the NCSL shall receive notice of such declaration as soon as practicable.

POLICY DIRECTIVES AND RESOLUTIONS

NCSL works to strengthen the legislative institution by offering comprehensive research, professional development and training, and convening events to connect legislators and legislative staff.

NCSL roared through its 48th year that ended in June 2023 and accomplished hundreds of goals in service to you and the legislatures you serve. This report details those accomplishments with data and stories showing the extensive work done by the professionals on the NCSL staff who are committed to the legislature and representative democracy.

We strongly urge you to read the report carefully to understand the extraordinary work done to support legislatures. It is with great pride that we compile this information to demonstrate the return on investment that states get from their support of the nation’s premier organization devoted to all those privileged to serve as legislators and as legislative staff.

The staff of NCSL believe in the legislative institution and American democracy. We feel honored to work for legislators and staff across the political spectrum. Our goal is to make all legislators and staff better at their jobs, regardless of their ideology, because we believe in the democratic system where Americans choose who will represent them in capitol from Juneau to San Juan and from Augusta to Sacramento. We also believe that providing unbiased, nonpartisan and reliable research and data is more important than ever, given the massive increase in misinformation and deception. Remaining a trusted source for legislative decisionmakers continues to be a foundation for all the services and programs NCSL delivers.

There are far too many highlights from FY 2023 to preview here, so please take the time to find out about the considerable success of the Conference over the past year by spending time reviewing the full report. I think you will be impressed.

We thank all of you for your service to your state. We look forward to hearing from you during the next year as we continue to work by your side to strengthen legislatures and deliver for the people who entrust you to lead them. NCSL will begin celebrating 50 years of service next year, and the future looks bright.
OUR Mission

NCSL represents the legislatures in the states, territories and commonwealths of the U.S. Its mission is to advance legislatures' effectiveness, independence and integrity, foster interstate cooperation, and facilitate the exchange of information among legislatures.

State-Federal Relations
NCSL also represents legislatures in dealing with the federal government, especially in support of state sovereignty and state flexibility and protection from unfunded federal mandates and unwarranted federal preemption. The conference promotes cooperation between state legislatures in the U.S. and those in other countries.

Strengthening the Legislative Institution
In addition, NCSL is committed to improving the operations and management of state legislatures and the effectiveness of legislators and legislative staff. NCSL also encourages the practice of high standards of conduct by legislators and legislative staff.
NCSL’s State Policy and Research Division comprises 10 issue-focused programs that provide nonpartisan research and support on a wide variety of policy issues impacting states. In addition to identifying trends and unique policy approaches, the division produces policy publications, hosts convenings for state legislators and staff, and creates searchable databases covering a host of issues that incorporate pending and enacted state legislation. In fiscal year 2023, the division produced dozens of publications, hosted more than 30 issue-focused invitational meetings and tracked state legislation in more than 82 databases.

NCSL staff also applied their extensive policy knowledge when responding to research requests from legislators, legislative staff, NCSL Foundations sponsors, the media and others. Often, these requests involve more complicated or extensive analysis than that available on the NCSL website. Legislators and staff rely on NCSL to complete these customized requests in a timely manner—and research requests are one of our members’ most valued services. In FY 2023, NCSL staff completed more than 3,000 research requests that provided unbiased, comprehensive information and allowed legislators and staff to learn from other state approaches.

NCSL’s Center for Results-Driven Governing focuses on supporting legislatures as they explore evidence-based policymaking issues. In FY 2023, the center supported the Governing for Results Network—a peer learning network of legislators, legislative staff and executive branch officials from 11 states—that held several meetings to share research and best practices.

The NCSL Children and Families Program hosted NCSL’s first interdisciplinary Youth and Young Adult Policy Summit in 2022, focusing on the well-being of youth and young adults and policy options for states. In addition, the team helped legislatures take a bite out of the national housing crisis by fulfilling more than 100 research requests and tracking nearly 2,500 bills in 2023 alone—an 83% increase in legislative activity over 2022.

In October 2022, the NCSL Criminal and Civil Justice Program, in partnership with the Employment, Labor and Retirement Program, launched the “Legislator Police Academy,” a peer-learning program comprising 16 legislators and legislative staff. The group continues to meet in 2023 virtually and in person.

The NCSL Education Program successfully held five meetings in June 2023 for legislators and staff: Higher Education Task Force, Working Group on Non-degree Credentials, Education Finance Fellows, Early Learning Deep Dive and Education Chairs Retreat. The team hosted about 100 legislators and staff in June from nearly every state and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

The NCSL Elections and Redistricting Program covered state politics and statewide ballot measures for the November 2022 election for NCSL members, the media and NCSL Foundation sponsors. They consistently accounted for some of the most viewed materials on NCSL’s website, with more than 3 million unique users in the last 18 months.

The NCSL Employment, Labor and Retirement Program convened a national task force on mental health in the workplace in collaboration with the Health Program. The group met three times over the year to hear from experts and learn from one another about policy options to improve employment outcomes for people with mental health challenges and address the mental health workforce shortage.

NCSL’s Environment, Energy and Transportation Program launched several new initiatives, including a partnership to explore transportation user fees, a comprehensive environment and environmental health bill tracking database, and two new energy policy groups for legislators and legislative staff: the Energy Staff Network and the Legislative Energy Security Working Group.

The NCSL Fiscal Affairs Program created a new Budget Working Group of legislators interested in responsible long-term budget strategies. The group plans to meet over the next year and develop sound state budgeting practices recommendations. The Fiscal Program also tracked current state budget conditions and tax-cutting measures due to strong revenue collections.

The newly established Financial Services, Technology and Communications Program responded to more than 200 research requests, provided technical assistance, wrote articles and conducted a podcast on a host of issues, including AI, privacy, broadband, securities regulation, financial literacy and alternative home financing.

The NCSL Health Program hosted the state public health symposium with representation from nearly 70 legislators and staff from more than 30 states, the Northern Mariana Islands and Washington, D.C. The Health Program staff also testified or provided presentations to committee members in more than 15 states on issues related to prescription drug affordability, EMS, health care workforce, cannabis, maternal health, telehealth, certificate of need laws and others.
NCSL is committed to providing objective, bipartisan, fact- and evidence-based research, technical assistance, committee testimony, high-level professional development training and other resources to support the policymaking process. Additionally, NCSL provides:

- NCSL Leaders’ Center: This hub assists legislative leaders in facing the challenges of managing the institution, crafting public policy, creating consensus out of dissension, communicating with Congress and key officials and more.

- Legislative Staff Services Program: The nation’s only organization with staff professional associations for those with legislative jobs convenes legislative staffers who serve in similar functions with unparalleled training opportunities.

- Legislative Training Institute: Through creating and delivering high-quality professional development programs for legislators and staff, the institute seeks to strengthen the legislative institution.

- NCSL Institute for International Cooperation: To strengthen the bonds between America’s state legislatures and the international community, the institute... facilitates meetings, study tours and exchange programs to find innovative solutions to the day’s most pressing policy issues.

- NCSL Center for Legislative Strengthening: The center provides nonpartisan research and analysis for state legislators and staff about legislative operations, the legislative process, legislator pay and demographics, legislative human resources issues and the separation of powers.

- NCSL partnerships and collaborations include:
  - The Quad Caucus (a convening of the National Asian Pacific American Caucus of State Legislators (NAPACSL), National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL), National Caucus of Native American State Legislators (NCNASL) and the National Hispanic Caucus of State Legislators (NHCSL)).
  - The Women’s Legislative Network, which works to promote the participation, empowerment and leadership of women legislators.

• The NCSL Leaders’ Center went coast to coast in the last fiscal year to bring dozens of legislative leaders together for professional development and policy discussions at symposiums in New York and San Diego. During the transition to the new biennium, the Leaders’ Center connected with 40 new top leaders, providing valuable resources and assistance as they began their first sessions in these crucial roles.

• Over the past fiscal year, the Legislative Training Institute doubled its training staff to a total of four trainers, created four new training modules, and completed more than 226 trainings in 35 states, reaching an audience of 12,064 legislators and legislative staff.

• NCSL’s Institute for International Cooperation (IIC) had another year of growth and expanded engagement with NCSL members and global partners. The Parliament of Ghana became NCSL’s second International Affiliate Member in January 2023, joining the Quebec National Assembly as NCSL’s second dues-paying member from outside the United States. The IIC also facilitated legislative study tours, exchanges, and training programs with international partners, ranging from the European Union’s Committee of the Regions to India’s National Legislators’ Conference to welcoming a Kenyan delegation for training, and several others.

• NCSL’s Center for Legislative Strengthening served NCSL’s members with expertise in legislative operations and management in various ways over the last year. The team answered nearly 400 research requests, providing NCSL members with rapid information, analysis and consulting on various institutional issues. CLS staff visited 11 legislatures to offer testimony, consulting or committee chair and new member training. It provided virtual testimony in several other states on topics ranging from legislative emergency powers, staff hiring practices and legislator pay and benefits. The program was also presented at two NCSL leaders’ meetings, before four international delegations, and at three staff professional development seminars. Pages on the separation of powers and legislative sessions are the two most-accessed web resources maintained by CLS, with 154,000 views over the past year. CLS completed NCSL’s annual legislator pay and benefits survey, completed a consulting project on legislative staffing issues for a legislative chamber in fall 2022 and began two others in spring 2023.

• The Legislative Staff Management Institute, held in July 2022, marked the 19th year of NCSL’s partnership with USC and CSUS. Over 70 applicants (the largest pool to date) translated to two cohorts totaling 57 participants from 32 states during the eight-day residency program. The curriculum emphasized learning by doing, effective communication skills, team building, negotiation, conflict resolution and creating professionalism based on the core values of representative democracy.

• The LSCC approved a name change for the popular online professional development Legislative Staff Certificate Program. Now called Legislative Staff Institutional Essentials, the program’s objective is to provide newer legislative staff with a broader context about legislatures and their role within the institution and to inspire them to continue their career in their legislature. More than 160 legislative staff applied for the program in its third year, with 108 accepted. They completed 10 hours of learning modules covering five topics: Characteristics of American State Legislatures; Ethics and NCSL’s Model Code of Conduct for Legislative Staff; Concise, Clear Communication Skills; Budgeting 101; and Leadership Skills within the Legislative Ecosystem.

• Staff Hub, a multi-staff association event held in October 2022 in Atlanta, featured participation from six of the nine professional staff associations. Now referred to as “Staff Summit,” it included a stand-alone LSCC meeting, pre- and post-conference meetings and sessions covering topics such as nonpartisanship, evidence-based policymaking and legislative rules and procedures. The LSCC has recommended that NCSL look at hosting this type of event every five years.

• The NCSL State-Tribal Institute supported the Quad Caucus convening in November 2022. This first-of-its-kind meeting brought together more than 600 legislators from the four national caucuses of color for concurrent annual meetings.

NCSL in Washington, D.C.

NCSL serves as the eyes, ears and voice of state legislatures in Washington, D.C. NCSL’s Washington staff tracks and reports on the actions in our nation’s capital and lobbies Congress, the White House and federal agencies for the benefit of state legislatures in accord with the policy directives and resolutions recommended by the standing committees and adopted at the NCSL Legislative Summit Business Meeting. NCSL also tracks and reports on actions taken by the U.S. Supreme Court that impact states.
Passage of a bill that allowed states, territories and localities to use certain federal COVID-19 relief funds for new categories of spending and an extension of the deadline by which states needed to expend funds, from Dec. 31, 2024, to Sept. 30, 2026.

Working with congressional staff to have states and, in one case, NCSL specifically added to two bills in the 118th Congress. This includes the Disaster Assistance Simplification Act and the Restore the Partnership Act. NCSL continues to work on the passage of the bills.

The addition of co-sponsors to the Secure and Fair Enforcement (SAFE) Banking Act. NCSL continues to provide state legislatures guidance on implementing ARPA, IIJA, IRA, BSCA and CHIPS.

NCSL created a new Executive Committee Task Force to examine the state-federal partnership on higher education.
EVENTS, COMMUNICATIONS and Outreach

To connect legislators and legislative staff, NCSL provides a platform for bipartisan discussions on critical issues by hosting in-person and online meetings, communicating year-round via digital, print and social media channels, and conducting outreach through two of the conference’s programs: state liaison—NCSL staff assigned as points of contact for every state and territory; and state coordinators—legislators who serve as ambassadors in their chambers.
A key milestone reached in January 2023 was the successful launch of a complete revamp of the NCSL website to address necessary technical updates and enhance user experience. Also implemented: a new cloud-based media management platform for storing, optimizing and delivering images, videos and other media assets; and a web governance and optimization platform to enhance the site’s quality, ADA compliance and SEO performance.

New branding guidelines continued to be refined in FY 2023, including color palette adjustments and new, intuitive, expanded PowerPoint and Word templates.

The Legislative Video Resource Center saw an 89% increase in views since the removal of a login requirement for basic-level videos. An exclusive new video series, "Governing With the Brain in Mind," created by best-selling author John Medina for NCSL members, is available on the platform.

The new role of state outreach manager was introduced in January 2023, marking the first time NCSL has employed a staff member dedicated to state relations work.

NCSL’s Operations Division comprises four organization-wide departments supporting the day-to-day operations of the conference: Building and Facilities; Human Resources; Information Technology; and Meetings.
HIGHLIGHTS

• Human Resources is responsible for supporting the talent at NCSL, including recruitment, onboarding, performance management, training and development, compensation and benefit administration, policy development and compliance and employee engagement and retention. In FY 2023, HR has worked hard to increase candidate pools for open positions. The department’s efforts have increased pool diversity by 9.75%, with an average time to fill positions (from posting to hiring) of 53 days. The department processed 33 internal promotions and hired and onboarded a new HR recruiter.

• Information Technology is responsible for overseeing NCSL’s information technology systems and infrastructure. The IT Department is critical to ensuring that NCSL’s technology is up-to-date, secure, and functioning correctly to support the organization’s mission. In FY 2023, the IT department published the new and improved NCSL website, re-envisioned it with a focus on member preferences, designed the Concur solution to streamline the process around NCSL travel and expenses. The department also implemented a robust system to replace the legacy listserv tool to provide enhanced capabilities for member groups to collaborate, and added to account profile features enabling members to view and edit their meeting badge information.

• Meetings manages and coordinates NCSL’s conferences, meetings and events. The department is responsible for planning and executing numerous events throughout the year, including the annual Legislative Summit, NCSL Base Camp, Forecast, invitational meetings and other policy-focused events.
FINANCE and Accounting

Responsible for ensuring the efficient financial management and controls necessary to support all business activities, NCSL’s Finance and Accounting division is critical to the organization’s ability to carry out its mission.
The Finance and Accounting team implemented numerous technical improvements to organizational processes, including travel and expense management, contract lifecycle management and lockbox banking. The team continues working hard on enhancements to better serve NCSL staff, members and partners.

NCSL’s annual audit was successful, with a clean opinion issued.

NCSL’s general fund ended FY 2023 with a surplus, resulting in NCSL building on its rainy-day reserve established last year. Dues collections were very strong, with dues received from 56 of 57 legislative members. The Legislative Summit in Denver also exceeded financial projections. The FY 2024 budget was approved at the spring Executive Committee meeting with an additional contribution to the reserve fund and a slight projected surplus.
