

Session: Health Innovations Task Force

Role: Speaker

Name: Hannah Maxey

Title: Associate Professor of Family Medicine, Director of the Bowen Center for Health Workforce Research and Policy, Indiana University School of Medicine

Bio: Hannah Maxey is a nationally recognized expert in health workforce policy with more than two decades of experience in health care and public health. She is a licensed dental hygienist, and her experience as a practicing health care professional in public health clinics provided perspective on the role of the health workforce in ensuring accessibility in both public health and health care services. Maxey serves as a consultant to the National Governor's Association. She holds master's and doctoral degrees in health policy and management.

Session: Health Innovations Task Force

Role: Speaker

Name: Courtney Medlock

Title: Assistant Director of Policy and Strategy, Bowen Center for Health Workforce Research and Public Policy, Indiana University School of Medicine

Bio: Courtney Medlock is a health policy analyst with a personal and professional commitment to advancing health policy through policy research, relationship building and collaborative solutions. She is committed to staying abreast of best practices and innovations in the health workforce space and working with stakeholders to strategize solutions for Indiana.

Session: Health Innovations Task Force

Role: Speaker

Name: Jerome Adams

Title: Presidential Fellow and Executive Director, Health Equity Initiatives, Purdue University

Bio: Dr. Jerome Adams ran the Indiana Department of Health before becoming the 20th U.S. Surgeon General and serving on the president's coronavirus task force. He has been at the forefront of America's most pressing health challenges, making the science relevant to the lay public. In addition to his recent COVID-19 work, he has helped organizations navigate the opioid epidemic, maternal health, the impacts of the nation's rising suicide rates, and how businesses can better promote community health. Adams is a licensed anesthesiologist with a master's degree in public health.